Nothing can stop Khloé Kardashian's quest for perfection BY INGELA RATLEDGE

Khloé Kardashian found herself in low spirits on May 14. "So annoyed I missed my workout this morning," the usually upbeat reality star shared. "I better find time and motivation to go tonight. Come on, Khloé!"

Her frustration over skipping a single sweat session is telling. Khloé, 28, has become hell-bent on improving herself from head to manicured toe — and those in her inner circle fear she's going over the top. "Now that she's put fertility treatments on the back burner and doesn't have to worry about being bloated from hormones, she's focusing all her energy on her appearance," says a Kardashian family insider. "She wants to look perfect."

That's a worrisome attitude for someone who was beautiful to begin with. "Khloé has already lost around 20 pounds, and she says she wants to lose another 15," adds a friend. "She is obsessed."

WHITE-HOT

Dr. Sands says Khloé's "teeth are already so good," but she still opted for Invisalign.

And that's just the beginning. In addition to the strenuous daily workouts and strict high-protein diet that whittled her 5-foot-10 frame from a healthy size 8/10 to a slinky size 6, Khloé is making other big changes. "She's using fillers and Botox," says the insider (though her rep denies it), and she has lighter hair extensions.

She's even tinkering with her gorgeous smile. "Khloé came to me on May 7 for a consultation about getting Invisalign to straighten her teeth," LA cosmetic dentist Dr. Kevin Sands confirms to In Touch. "Her teeth are very straight, but she wants them to be even more perfect."

Khloé ended up getting Invisalign, and she's thrilled with the results. "She's always felt like the ugly sister" to siblings Kim, 32, and Kourtney, 34, says her friend. "She's really come into her own."

And she's feeling unstoppable. "Now that she sees how she can be hot and pretty, that's not enough," says the insider. "She wants to be the hottest and prettiest, no matter what." ■
